

Information Security Management Policy Statement of the National Statistical Institute

With this document the management of the National Statistical Institute (NSI) declares its full commitment in the processes of developing, maintaining and constant improving of the Information Security Management System (ISMS) corresponding to the requirements of BDS standard ISO/IEC 27001.

The goals set for the information security are compatible with the NSI's strategic goals. The ISMS requirements are integrated in the NSI's business processes and are observed by all staff, partners and other stakeholders. The information security policies are an integral part of the general policy for the overall activity of the organization. The NSI's management shall ensure the resources necessary for functioning of all ISMS processes.

The NSI's management shall give full support to the staff engaged in implementing the information security activities. All NSI's personnel must observe the policies, procedures, instructions and other documents related to the information security.

The NSI's management shall guarantee that the information security policies are reviewed regularly and are updated when necessary in order to be in compliance in case of changes in the conditions of work of NSI and in the requirements of legal and normative documents and applicable standards.

With this policy the NSI's management shall undertake commitment and express its responsibility in front of the state and the citizens of the country for ensuring all necessary resources in implementing certain policies and set goals by the Information Security Management System which corresponds to the normative and legal requirements in the Republic of Bulgaria.

Date: 10th December 2018

NSI President:

Sergey Tsvetarsky