

OVERALL ENERGY BALANCE AND RENEWABLES - 2024

NSI has published revised annual data on the Overall Energy Balance and Renewables for 2024 as a result of the later completed regular procedure for data verification and validation by Eurostat and the International Energy Agency. The revised data affect the indicators of primary production, transformation input, transformation output, available for final consumption, statistical difference. The trends of decrease in the total energy supply and in the final energy consumption in the country remain unchanged.